

America is all about freedom not catering to special interests. If the National Association of Broadcasters can't take the competitive heat from satellite radio (the best new entertainment innovation in decades), they should improve their products to make them more competitive rather than trying to stifle competition through political lobbying.